

APPENDIX

Changes to Claims:

The following are marked-up versions of the amended claims:

1. (Twice Amended) A method of time slicing a telecommunications call, comprising:
 - connecting a caller to a subscriber of a time slicing service; then:
 - determining if the subscriber is available to ~~receive~~ acontinue the call from the caller;
 - connecting the caller to an alternate device that provides alternate services when the subscriber is not available to ~~receive~~ continue the call;
 - terminating the alternate services and resuming communication between the caller to the subscriber when the subscriber is available to ~~receive~~ continue the call; and
 - determining a portion of total call charges associated with the call that is attributable to at least one entity other than the subscriber based on the alternate services provided.